

MISS ROSE RISCHAR IS TO HEAD WOMENS CLUB

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN HOLD ANNUAL MEETING AND ELECT OFFICERS

An interesting meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club was held Tuesday evening in the basement of the Methodist church at which time circle No. 4 of the Methodist ladies served a splendid salad plate with ice tea. At the close of the feast Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp favored the club with a paper on "The Women of the Bible." This was one of the best papers ever read before the club and was given in Mrs. Kemp's most happy manner.

Mrs. Paul Webb favored the club with choice piano solos, taken from Thurlow Laurence's noted Indian Melodies. Mrs. Webb is a finished musician and her playing is always a delight to those who hear her, and these pieces were especially beautiful.

After the program business was taken up when all chairmen of the different committees made their annual report. Mrs. A. J. Lewis, Secretary-Treasurer, gave an itemized report of the finances of the club, and Miss Jane Caton gave the report on the play given by the club. A splendid condition of the club's finances was heard. After the report the nominating committee, submitted the following names for election for officers for the ensuing year, all of whom were unanimously elected: President, Miss Rose Rischar; 1st. Vice President, Miss Willyne Hyde; 2nd. Vice President, Mrs. Kirby Boles; Secretary & Treasurer, Mrs. Katherine Robbins. Corresponding Secretary, Miss Jane Caton; Press Reporter, Miss Delphya Scott, re-elected.

During the business session a letter was read from Miss Florence Sands of the Federated Business and Professional Women's Club of Texas, inviting the Cameron club to be present at the Business and Professional Women's Club day which is set aside by the Texas State Fair for Saturday, October 16th at Dallas. Guests upon arrival are to be met and escorted to the Y. W. C. A. where they are to register, check all baggage, then to be escorted to the fair grounds to spend the day sight-seeing, returning to the Y. W. C. A. for a swim to freshen up for dinner at six-thirty, which will be served by the Dallas club at a hotel.

A letter was read from the Waco News-Tribune asking for the full history of the Cameron club and their activities and names of officers, to be used by the News-Tribune Sunday, October 10th when they are featuring the activities of women's clubs in Central Texas.

The retiring president, Miss Anne Stallworth, gave a splendid talk at the close of the meeting thanking all club members and committees for their loyalty and encouraged them to further activities, which was well received. A rising vote of thanks was given Miss Stallworth, for her splendid leadership, and also to the chairman of this month's program, Mrs. Dierr, and the ladies who prepared the delightful luncheon plate.

Miss Jane Caton was appointed chairman of next month's program with the privilege of selecting her helpers.

The following persons were elected to membership in the club: Mrs. Louis Turner, Mrs. Autrey Bryan, Mrs. John Olson, Misses Ruth McGuire, Myrta Mae Huddleston, Velma Montgomery and Valasta Havlik; three other names were presented for membership and will be voted on at the next month's meeting.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE LAW HAMPERS ENFORCEMENT SAYS JURY

Club Committee Named; To Promote Poultry Show

CAMERON MERCHANTS BEGIN FALL BARGAIN FEST

GRAND JURY CONDEMS LAW AS INTERFERENCE

BELIEVE THERE IS DETRIMENT TO ENFORCEMENT IN NEW STATUTE

The search and seizure law of Texas is detrimental to the enforcement of the law says the grand jury which has just adjourned in district court.

The following resolution was passed touching on the disadvantages of the law as it operates:

"Whereas from reliable information furnished us by the sheriff and other officers of the county, and from our personal observation as citizens and experience as grand jurors, that the effect of the present search and seizure law is working to the detriment of law enforcement in our state; And

"Whereas we do not feel that any law abiding citizen has any fear of his premises being unduly searched, or of his family being annoyed by the officers of our state, but on the contrary are desirous of our laws being properly enforced. And,

"Whereas much of the agitation in favor of such law has been carried on in our judgment, by those who to some extent at least, have fear of the enforcement of the law, and whereas we feel that many of our citizens, apparently, do not recognize their duty as citizens in law enforcement, and their obligations to the state to obey its laws.

"Therefore, be it resolved by the Grand Jury of Milam County, Texas, that we believe it would be to the best interest of the state, and a great aid to the enforcement of the state laws for the present search and seizure law to be either repealed, or greatly modified, in order that our officers who are desirous of enforcing the law may be permitted to enter places where the law is being violated, without at first securing a search warrant, and giving the guilty time to cover up their crimes or escape.

"Be it further resolved, that we call upon all our citizens to have more regard for the laws of our country, and to do their duty towards having them enforced.

JUNIOR BAND TO GET TAX APPORTIONMENT

DIRECTOR TO GIVE YOUTHFUL MUSICIANS ENTIRE TIME

By action of the city council on request of the Commercial Club and a petition signed by 100 tax payers the band director, George Fairleigh will devote his time to the Junior band.

The petition was signed by officers of the old band and was circulated and presented by F. E. Jackson.

It was said that the old band was no longer intact. T. S. Henderson Jr., also appeared before the council. There is some agitation for the school board to administer the band but the city has had no expression from the board and will not take any action.

The city is thus assured of a band. The youngsters have been given recognition over the state and their music has pleased thousands.

Loses Wife From Car Drives Two Miles And Phones Officers Here

A prominent farmer residing in the Rockdale community Tuesday night telephoned Sheriff Blaylock that he had lost his wife from the car in which they were riding and wanted assistance at once to find her.

Investigation showed that while the couple were driving along the road they came to a ravine where crossing required putting the car in low gear. Fearing to sit in the car the wife opened the door and stepped out to watch the car over the rough place. When the husband reached the other side he proceeded up the road. He did not know his wife had stepped out of the car as it came to a halt at the crossing. After driving two miles down the road he turned to speak to his wife about something he wished to talk about and found she was missing.

The wife walked two miles to Milverna. The husband, excited, had called the sheriff. The couple were united an hour later and laughed about the strange experience.

YOE HIGH TO MEET ROSEBUD FRI. 8TH

YOMEN WORKING HARD IN PREPARATION FOR GAME IN ROSEBUD

With the Waco game a matter of history, the Yoe High football team began Monday to prepare for its game with Rosebud Friday. For the past few days this game has been on lips of all students of Yoe High. As it is only fifteen miles over to the Rosy City every one is expected to beg, borrow or bum their way to see the Yoemen in their first district game. The Yoemen though beaten badly in their first game, Cameron should win all down hearted as they realize that they have played two of the strongest contenders for the state title.

Little is known about the strength of the Rosebud team except that they took the Rogers team in camp for their first game. Cameron should win despite the fact that Rosebud is playing on their own territory. The large number of fans that will accompany the team to Rosebud should make up for this handicap.

Arthur Adams, fullback, is expected to turn in the best game for the Yoemen. He was the shining light in the defeat by Waco. He plays defensive half-back and time after time during the Waco game he came in to break up the plays and make the tackles when the Yoemen forward wall had failed. He will be ably supported by Captain Mohler, Cheeves, Mondrik and Thompson. The starting line-up for the Yoemen will probably be: Cheeves center; Hazelwood and Graham, Guard; Capt. Mohler and Mondrik, Tackles; Baskin and Thompson, ends; Slocomb, quarterback; Smith and Feris, half backs and Adams, full.

The Yoemen open the season at home with the strong Granger team Friday week. An effort to have the business houses close for the opening game is to be made. Let's all get out and pull for the Yoemen.

Buildings in the United States will reach a value of $7,500,000,000 if the averages for the first six months are maintained during the balance of the year.

CAMERON FURNITURE CO ANNOUNCES BIG SALE

GREAT STOCK PUT ON SALE AT PRICES THAT WILL MOVE THE GOODS

The Cameron Furniture Company will open the doors of the big store Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in one of the greatest furniture sales in the history of local merchandising.

This firm has conducted few sales in its history and never at any time has such a sale been announced as this.

The great stock rated at $50,000 is being placed on sale and many lines are advertised at below cost prices.

James L. Coleman, directing the advertising for this sale, has purchased every item of material, circulars, etc., in Cameron. "We believe in practicing as well as preaching home industry," he said.

In this issue of The Herald a double page ad is printed. It will be of interest to families and housewives everywhere to look over these prices.

The reasons set forth for this sale are logical in every way. There is nothing fake about this sale. The goods speak for themselves, said Mr. Coleman, and the prices are without equal anywhere in this section.

Coming at a time when winter household needs must be supplied the Cameron Furniture, in the opinion of the managers and owners, has met in a most pleasing way the need for greater economies.

IMPORTANT CORRECTION

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a coupon advertisement placed by the Star Products for the Pace Marshall Drug Company. It is a special sale and a remarkable bargain offer but we made an error. The coupon is worth 51c instead of 25c as shown. Coupons have been printed with the correct prices. Take the coupon and 49c and you can buy a genuine bottle of Parisienne perfume. This offer is good for Friday or Saturday, October 8 or 9. Please note the correction in the price.

Only a small number were present, not enough for a quorum from the directors elected at the big meeting at the high school.

The club will favor a poultry show. Wm. Cobb as chairman of the committee on agriculture has the matter in charge. Geo. Bantshaf and Miss Velma Montgomery will assist.

The club also endorsed the negro county fair and will give its assistance. The negroes have been holding a number of community fairs.

The committee named to see the city council about the transfer of the band director to the junior band came after several minutes discussion. The club favors this movement.

MRS. FRANCIS BAUMGART IS DEAD FROM INJURIES

MOTHER OF MRS. A. E. SHARPE DIES AT BRENHAM FOLLOWING TRAIN COLLISION

Mrs. Frances Baumgart, one of Brenham's most venerable and beloved women, passed away at the Brenham hospital at three o'clock Thursday afternoon, never having regained consciousness after being struck by the Houston and Texas Central passenger train at the Baylor Street crossing shortly after three-thirty Wednesday afternoon. She was immediately taken to the hospital and everything possible done for her, but she was very frail and the shock was too great for one of her advanced age, the flame of life flickering feebly then dying gently.

Decedent, whose maiden name was Frances Ehtenberger was born in Germany, November 27, 1842, and was therefore at the time of her death, nearing her eighty-fourth birthday. When only three years of age she came to America, and spent the greater part of her long and useful life in Brenham, being one of the splendid pioneer women who helped to build up this section of the state. She was a noble Christian woman, a faithful member of the Christian church, with (continued on page 8, this section)

THE GOD OF INDUSTRY

Business needs some change of purpose, according to W. P. Hapgood, president of a canning factory, speaking to the Congress of American Industry in session at Philadelphia. He said the god of industry is the god of profit, and he felt it should be a god of personality instead.This gentleman has raised the question as to how far the seeking of profit is a legitimate motive in industry.
Some people think profits are all very wrong, and that American business will be on the wrong track until it gives up or subordinates the idea of profit.The man who operates a business or who furnishes the capital for a business, is entitled to a reasonable profit or interest, just as a workman is entitled to his wages. If a business is not rendering such a return to those who direct it and furnish the capital for it, it is not on a sound basis. It is in danger of decline, and if it declines,families are made to suffer hardship, and their prospects for the future are harmfully affected.A business man ought to make a profit just as he ought to pay fair wages and make fair prices, and making a reasonable profit may be considered a duty like supporting one's family.In the past however, many business concerns have devoted themselves exclusively to heaping up profits, without regard to human relations. They have bought and sold labor as a commodity, without considering that the community is not well served unless the workpeople also are profitably employed. The friction resulting has made industry less productive, and hence costly to the community.The business of the future will not be satisfied unless its operations are profitable to the capitalists and managers, profitable to the employees, and profitable to the public. Unless all three of these services are rendered, the business is defective.

EXERCISE BY PROXY

A man who traveled in England this summer, and who noted on his return the enormous throng of people who attended the Tunney-Dempsey fight, remarked on how the American people were doing their sports by proxy.Over in England, he said, when the men have days off or are out of work, they get out and play cricket or football, and in that way they keep in good physical condition. But in this country, he said, they go as spectators to a ball game or a prize fight or something like that. He asked how they were going to keep up their physical condition year after year when they simply watch someone else do things?He might also have added that some millions of them who used to walk everywhere and obtained a good physical ability in that way, now have to be carted around in automobiles, and many of them can walk but little. Our predecessors kept up their physical ability by working on farms and gardens. Yet the town and city men seem to be doing most of their exercise and sport by proxy, and watching football games, prize fights, etc., furnishes theprincipal form of physical development for millions of them.One thing that works in the opposite direction is golf, which gives a great number of people fine exercise.
But still only a small minority of the whole people play that game. The women may keep up their physical ability by housework, but the men of the cities are not so active.If the American people are going to keep up their physical stamina and power of achievement, they need to pay a little more attention to active exercise. Of course many schools are doing a splendid thing by introducing physical culture. But the results of that are limited for the majority of the boys of Texas, if when they grow up, they should not do anything more active than hollering at the ball games.

IMPULSIVE MARRIAGES

A popular actress reports that up to a recent date, she used to receive about one proposal of marriage a month. But some months ago she shingled her hair, and since then she has averaged to receive 15 proposals a month.Many girls in ordinary occupations would also testify that when they made some slight change in their appearance which seemed to make them look more fashionable and smart, the men showed a much greater interest in them.Thousands of men are influenced to offer themselves in marriage because some young woman impressed them as stylish in her appearance. Many such offers are made on impulse, and it shows how easily the fancy of men is swayed by slight considerations.And then if these girls are equally to respond to their families, an equally quick to marry on impulse, then we have hasty marriages, and people pledge themselves to love and cherish their mates eternally. And we all know the result in so many cases, where the divorce court gets them within a short time, and a great deal of unhappiness results.These people make the solemn pledges of matrimony, and then if there is a little unpleasantness a little latter, many of them are ready to throw up the whole thing regardless of these vows. And doubtless when they madethese pledges, the thought was in their minds, that if the union was not a success it could easily be dissolved.Rather tough on the children that may be brought into the world by such a union. There are a great company of these off-shoots of broken homes today, and many of them will get a warped and one sided training as the result of their ill assorted origin. There are a very large number of people in Texas who need a more intelligent view of marriage than they have today.

MAKING A BETTER CITY

If someone makes a really good suggestion of something that would benefit his home town, and if he is asked why he does not try to put that suggestion into effect, he will commonly reply that it is not his business to do it.Such a person may have the feeling, that if he went ahead and tried to lead a movement to accomplish that idea, he would be putting in where he did not belong.But when you have good civics organizations in a city, Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, or something of that kind, you have the machinery for carrying out such ideas.
People are named to offices and committees in these organizations for just that purpose, to carry out the good ideas of their members, and in that way many excellent suggestions, which formerly produced no result,
are taken up and pushed and are accomplished.

IDEAS AND ACTION

There are no end of good ideas in a city like Cameron which if taken up and acted upon, would be very helpful to the community. But the greater part of them never come to any thing, because people just express them to their friends and never do anything about them. We need action as well as ideas.The way to get action is perfectly clear, and it is to join some good organization like our Commercial Club.
Then if you attend its meetings and show interest in its work, your ideas will be listened to. If they have merit, and probably they have, they will arouse attention, and some committee will be set to work on them, and you can reasonably expect to see them accomplished, to the advantage of everyone in our community.Statement of the Ownership, Manage-

NAUSEA

This and Other Troubles Relieved By Black-Draught.

Mrs. Ada Blackmar, of Alexander City, Ala., writes: "From time to time, I would have spells of nausea, which would put me to bed. I would turn a dull, yellow color and, for days at a time, would have no appetite. Everything I ate sickened me. My mother had been a user of Black-Draught for years, so while I was at home, visiting, she asked me why I did not try Black-Draught for my troubles. "I began taking a small dose, three times a day, before meals. I kept this up for several weeks, and it was just a little while before I began to notice an improvement in my condition. "Black-Draught is certainly a fine medicine." You will say the same thing, once you have tried Theford's Black-Draught. For sale everywhere. 25c.

SCHOOLS OF COUNTY ASK FOR STATE AID

INCREASE IS SHOWN—OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST BY CO. SUPERINTENDENT

Next to the home and family, our schools are our greatest institutions. Upon them depends our civilization. No nation will ever get very far where no attention is paid to the development of the intellect of the youth. Hence, nothing that we can do toward the development of our schools in either money or personal encouragement and support, is wasted. Let us get that thoroughly absorbed into our systems. Even a casual visit into our schools, a word of praise to the teachers, and acknowledgment of the good effects of a certain department of the school, all will help in bettering conditions.

Maysfield school opened Monday morning with a fair attendance. The opening program consisted of songs, musical numbers, prayer by Rev. Cox of the Methodist church and an inspirational address by Rev. Craven of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Kathryn K. Robbins, County Superintendent, explained the official score card for Texas Rural Schools and spoke to the students on "Your Capital." Mr. J. O. Hughes, who is to be principal of the school for the second year made an interesting talk and called upon each of his assistants for a few words. The trustees, J. D. Martin, J. S. Barmore and V. L. White are to be congratulated upon securing the services of teachers of such training and ability, as they have brought to this rural school center this year. The teachers are as follows:

Mr. J. O. Hughes, principal.
Miss Eula Mae Cooper, Sixth and Seventh grades.
Miss Kathleen Kelso, Third, Fourth and Fifth Grades.
Miss Boliver Carlyle, primary teacher.

Minerva began work Monday morning and there is every indication that this is to be one of the most successful school terms for Milam County's oil center. There is to be a larger attendance and much interest is being manifested. A special tax has made necessary repairs possible, well qualified teachers have been secured, and the school, as well as other interests, is deriving much benefit from oil activities in this territory. Messrs. Jno. Wallace, Jno. Gore and G. C. Terry have given much time and thought to the careful selection of teachers who are as follows:

Miss Pearl Corley, Principal.
Miss Ethel Guthrie, Third and Fourth Grades.
Miss Doreen Orr, Primary Teacher.

State Aid For Rural Schools

There are 30 schools in Milam County applying for State Aid this year. Last year there were twenty-five and the same condition that prevails in Milam County will be true in other counties in the State. The low per capita apportionment has made the needs of the schools much greater because of this fact there will be more schools applying for aid than ever before. The amount to be apportioned is fixed by Statute at a million and a half dollars for the year ending August.

Only three cases of yellow fever—once the scourge of the continent—were reported in all North and South America during 1925, according to the Rockefeller Foundation.

Ouch! Rub Backache, Stiffness, Lumbago

Rub Pain from back with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacobs Oil."

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY

Honoring her niece, Miss Gladys Watson, who on October 20th will be married to Dr. Donald Gibson Kilgore of Dallas, Mrs. James Watson entertained delightfully at the Cameron Country Club Thursday afternoon. The club room was a bower of beauty in decorations of queen's wreath, pink roses, Dusty Miller and Mexican ageratum arranged effectively in embossed bowls and floor baskets carrying out in pleasing suggestions the bridal colors of pink and blue. Ten tables were arranged for the games, and the chosen colors were carried out in covers, tallies and appointments. After a series of games, the hostess, assisted by Mesdames W. E. Gaither of Rockdale, R. J. Long and J. C. Tucker served pink brick cream and angel cake on bamboo trays. The individual cakes were basket-shaped with a spray of queen's wreath tulle tied. In the center of these trays was a lace mat on which there was a larger basket-shaped cake with plumbago which was given to the one at each table who made the lowest score. Winners of high score were given a jeweler's box on which was embossed G. H. W. Upon opening these boxes a miniature picture of the honoree was found in a pink and blue frame which bore the following: G. H. W. to D. G. K. Oct. 20, 1926. Blue and pink bags of rice were passed to the guests and they very promptly made use of them. The hostess' gift to the honoree was a beautiful silver flower basket.

MRS. FAHRENDORF ENTERTAINS FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

Roses and queen's wreath of the loveliest pink tints in vases and pedestal baskets were used by Mrs. Fritz Fahrendorf to adorn the Cameron Country Club room when she charmingly entertained Wednesday afternoon for Miss Gladys Watson whose wedding to Dr. D. G. Kilgore of Dallas will occur October 20.

The guests were cordially received by Mrs. Fahrendorf, the honoree, Miss Gladys Watson and Mrs. John Watson. The spacious room was most inviting in adornment and featured the bridal colors, pink and blue in various floral effects. The mantel was gorgeously decorated in pink roses, queen's wreath and fern, with pedestal baskets on either side, making a very beautiful scene. Fourteen beautifully appointed tables were arranged for bridge and five for 42, all in bridal array with brides and cupids as score cards. Mrs. T. J. Denson made high score in 42 and Miss Harriet Henderson won high score in bridge; both were awarded a beautiful picture. Miss Eloise Rogers made low in bridge and Mrs. Frank Lesovsky in 42 and they were given china salt and pepper ducks. Colonial corsages were given for high cut at each table.

Covers were placed and a combination salad and ice course was attractively served with tiny pink and blue bags of rice as plate favors.

Mrs. A. J. Triggs very sweetly sang "Gray Days" and "Just a Cottage Small by a Waterfall," accompanied by Mrs. Paul Webb at the piano. Miss Eloise Rogers in her charming manner sang "The Little Old Garden" and "If I Were You," accompanied by Mrs. Clinton at the piano and Miss Mildred Clinton on the violin. John and Maide Watson, twin brother and sister of the honoree gave her a splendid surprise by presenting to her a gift package simulating a beautiful pink rose which opened to disclose a linen gift from each guest present that had been arranged with loving thought by the hostess. The packages were opened and displayed by the honoree who in her own sweet way thanked the guests.

The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mesdames Paul Webb, J. L. Clinton, J. E. Mangum, J. C. Tucker, S. A. Cottle, B. Jones of Waco, Misses Rose Rischar, Jeff Lewis and Mildred Clinton.

OIL MEN WIN AND TEXAS CHILDREN PAY

SO SAY DALE AND WALLACE
AUTHORS OF GAS TAX
MEASURE

Austin, Texas, Oct. 4.—The oil interests won at the expense of the 1,300,000 school children of Texas by the action of the Senate in voting on the gasoline tax and motor license fee bills until the Fortieth Legislature, Representatives F. A. Dale of Bonham and John F. Wallace of Teague, authors of the measure, said Monday afternoon in a statement deploring the Senate's attitude.

House members who favor the gasoline tax as a means of raising money for the schools to increase the per capita apportionment said the governor has not informed them whether there will be a second called session. Representative Dale and Loftin conferred with James E. Ferguson and the Governor Monday afternoon, but made no statement.

The House will be ready to adjourn sine die Wednesday, Speaker Lee Satterwhite said. By that time its work will have been completed and if it does not take up the tax bills, there is no reason why adjournment should not take place Wednesday, the speaker said.

In postponing action on the bills, the Senate has not necessarily killed them, in the opinion of Satterwhite. He, with other members of the House, believe the Senate should have voted on the bills directly and not killed them by postponing consideration. The Senate, however, is the judge of its own actions he said.

"Courtesy Lacking" Is Claim

Wallace and Dale were informed by Senator Wirtz of the Senate's action Monday afternoon, with a statement that a hearing scheduled for the afternoon on the bills would not be held. The two house members then made the following statement:

"This is the first time in our legislative experience a bill has been killed by a resolution. Authors of the gasoline tax bill and motor registration bills have not been accorded the common courtesy by the State Affairs Committee of the Senate of being heard on the merits of these important bills.

"In the regular session of the Thirtieth Legislature opponents of the gasoline bills said they did not have time to consider them properly, and that they favored taking them under consideration at the first called session. Now they want to consider them in the next regular session.

"We are reminded of the attitude of the antiprohibitionists when prohibition was under discussion. They always wanted whatever you were not voting on. When precinct elections were to be voted on they wanted county-wide elections and when county-wide elections were up they wanted what was under consideration. It is the same with the opponents of the gas bill.

"Last Friday afternoon, on last call in the Senate, twenty-nine Senators were present, as shown on page 830 of the Senate journal. A few minutes later the State Affairs Committee met to consider the gasoline tax bill and motor registration bill, but could not meet because they could not get a quorum.

"There were some reasons for a quorum not being present, but they were unknown to the proponents of the gas and motor registration bills. It seems to us that the interest of the 1,300,000 school children of Texas has been side tracked. This is certainly one time the oil interests have won over the school children. We do not know which Senators voted for postponement but we suppose the Senate journal will show, which will be interesting reading to friends of the school children of Texas.

"Friends of the public schools will press legislation in the next session of the Legislature to provide adequate funds for the public schools.

"It is a foregone conclusion that friends of public schools of Texas are up against the oil interests and had just as well understand they will have to stand together and make a determined fight to protect their interests.

"In the regular session of the Thirtieth Legislature the House of Representatives passed a $4,000,000 appropriation for taking care of the public schools of Texas. This failed to pass in the Senate. Now at the first called session of the Legislature the House again passes legislation that would partially have provided the much needed funds, and again the Senate has postponed action to the regular session of the Fortieth Legislature, which means that the smaller schools will close before they can get relief. At election time the dear children come first, after election they come last."

WHY GOVERNMENT PRICE FIXING WON'T WORK

One of the most persistent fallacies is government price-fixing on competitive commodities. There is already government price-fixing in commodities and services where competition plays no part in price determination. These are railway transportation, electricity, gas, telephone and telegraph, and so on. Here government price-fixing is solely to protect the consumer. There are two fatal objections to government price-fixing for agricultural products, which represent the most competitive business in the world. These are, first, that it will not work; second, that it is always done for the consumer as against the producer.

Government price-fixing for agricultural products would work if at the same time the government regulated wages, profits, middlemen's margins, the production of all commodities and the rationing of all consumers. In short, if the population were enlisted in one vast army, directed and rationed, price-fixing would work, but otherwise not. If the price is fixed on the wheat the farmer sells, then he cannot keep on producing wheat if wages or the cost of harvesting machinery rise, or if the cost of other material he buys rises. So the next step would be the fixation of other prices, and yet other prices.

The United States government fixed the price of wheat but once in our history, and then it was to benefit consumers, not producers. The government might, in an emergency, fix some agricultural prices for the purpose of elevating such prices. Such action would inevitably and speedily lead to outcry from city consumers and a consequent reversal of policy. Indeed, the consumers, not the producers, are most likely to demand and secure food price regulation by government authorities. The farmer, therefore, who favors any form of governmental price-fixing is working against his own interests. He is putting his head into a noose.—James E. Boyle, Professor of Rural Economics, Cornell University, in the Banker-Farmer.

Andrew Jackson was the only American President ever to figure as a duelist. Abraham Lincoln was once challenged by a young politician and chose as weapons 'cavalry broadswords of the largest size,' but the affair was called off.

Mrs. Baumgart is survived by two daughters and two sons: Mrs. Fritz Giesecke of Brenham, Mrs. A. E. Sharpe of Cameron, Otto E. Baumgart and Victor G. Baumgart of Brenham. She also leaves twelve grandchildren and nine little great grandchildren.

Hosts of warm friends who new and loved this dear old lady will deeply mourn her tragic death and offer sincerest sympathy to the sorrowing children and grandchildren. Her husband preceded her to the grave many years ago.

The body was taken to the residence of her son, Victor G. Baumgart, from where the funeral services were held at four o'clock Friday afternoon, and all that is mortal of this beloved woman will be laid to rest by the side of her husband at Prairie Lea cemetery.—Brenham Banner Press.

CASH STORE SERVES BUSINESS MEN LUNCH

BARBECUE GIVEN BY JEFF HEFLEY STORE NO. 2 ON TUESDAY

Members of the Lions Club and the Commercial Club were guests of Jeff Hefley at the Cash and Carry No. 2 Tuesday at a special barbecue luncheon served under the spreading branches of the old oak where Sam Houston delivered an address when a candidate for governor.

The luncheon was enjoyed by about 40 men representing both the clubs.

Mr. Hefley arranged the luncheon for the business men to be afforded the pleasure of their company as well as to demonstrate the good qualities of the meat he sells and the groceries he carries.

During the course of the luncheon Mr. Hefley circulated the following card:

"You are invited here today to be shown why I contend that I have the right to expect a large part of your business.

"Superior quality will place any business institution at the top.

"Any business must expect to rise or fall on quality, service and price; inspection will verify my quality, a test will verify my service and I request every one to check my prices.

"My idea in entering the cash and carry business was of course to make money, but never has that desire been first.

"My desire is a small profit on a large volume.

"The best trade at home argument there is, is better goods and better prices.

"My stores are bringing more out of town buyers to Cameron because I give better goods at lower prices.

"My store was the first of its type in Cameron and today its quality, prices and service will keep it in first place and it is on these merits that I solicit the undivided support of everyone.

DEES IS FOUND NOT GUILTY OF MURDER

CAMERON BUSINESS MAN TRIED IN HILLSBORO, IS FOUND NOT GUILTY

Hillsboro, Oct. 3.—Seth W. Dees, Cameron business man, was found not guilty of a charge of murder here this morning at 9 o'clock when the jury reported with a verdict of acquittal.

The case was given to the jury Saturday evening at 6:35 and late Saturday night no decision had been reached. District Judge Horton B. Porter was called this morning to receive the answer of W. R. Erskin, of Malone, foreman of the jury.

Dees got up quickly from his chair when the verdict was brought in and shook hands with each juror. Dees was tried here on a charge of administering strychnine poison to his stepson, Perry Dees, 11 years old, when the Dees family resided here, on the night of March 2. Dees lived near the T. P. Turk gin, one mile west of here, when the boy died under what was called strange circumstances. The boy was buried the next day in the Liberty Cemetery, 12 miles from Cameron.

Before his death Dees took out a $10,000 life insurance policy on the boy in his wife's name and the money was collected. It was deposited in a Whitney bank and checked out within eight days, a witness at the trial stated. This excited the suspicion of the authorities and the body of the boy was exhumed at Cameron and when Dr. W. T. Gooch of Baylor university, pronounced strychnine in sufficient quantities to kill in his body, Dees was arrested and brought here for trial. It was one of sensational nature and drew large crowds each day.

1926 Cotton Crop 5 Times As Large As Crop of 1925

The cotton crop in Milam County is five times as great as that of 1925 according to figures received from the bureau of statistics through the local representative. In 1925 the cotton crop was about 10,000 bales.

Based on the estimate now placed on ginning to September 16 the 1926 crop indicates for certain that we will have better than a 50,000 bale crop. Up to September 16 near 16,000 bales had been ginned in the county.

The following report from Basil McGregor will be of interest:

There were 15,623 bales of cotton, in Milam County, from the crop of counting round as half bales, ginned 1926 prior to September 16, 1926, as compared with 3,391 bales ginned to September 16, 1925.

JOHN H. BICKETT QUILTS HIGHWAY COMMISSION

ILL HEALTH ASSIGNED AS REASON FOR RESIGNING TERM
OUT 1931

Austin, Oct. 3.—John Bickett Sr. of San Antonio, senior and only member of the State Highway Commission who has been confirmed by the Senate, has tendered his resignation to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, it was unofficially reported here Sunday.

Bickett was the only one of three commissioners who survived the threatened special session of the Legislature last November following the State's suit against the American Road Company which confessed judgment of $600,000 excess profits on highway surfacing contracts. His appointment to a six-year term by Governor Ferguson was confirmed at the regular session of the Thirty-ninth Legislature by the Senate. He would have four more years to serve.

At the governor's mansion Sunday, former Governor James E. Ferguson, spokesman for the chief executive, when asked if the governor had accepted Bickett's resignation, said "the governor can't take any official action on Sunday." He declined to be quoted further.

Bickett has been sick for many months and his resignation has been expected for several weeks. Friday his son, John Bickett, Jr., of San Antonio, conferred with the governor and former governor, and it is thought that he submitted his father's resignation then, but no announcement was made. However, it is expected the governor will announce the acceptance of his resignation Monday, and that she will send to the senate an appointee in view of the fact that the Senate has postponed action on Commissioners Hal Moseley and John Cage, and that she may submit successors for them for confirmation. She has informed them that because they have not been confirmed the offices will become vacant at the end of the special session of the Legislature.

Tiny Finds a Way

By HOMER B. KING

(©, 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

TO BIG JIM CARNAHAN—Lippy—and Tiny Perkin, had come the parting of the ways.

It was the finding of a rich old river bed at the end of the fifty-foot tunnel they had driven into a hill that caused the trouble; after years of seeking, the possibility of sudden wealth had suddenly awakened in Lippy the devil's rudity.

Today the last of the gravel they had wheeled out was being sluiced and Carnahan had driven Tiny away, swearing he would twist his skinny old neck if he came back before the work was finished. Sneaking around through the brush, Tiny hid close to where the big fellow was working, and for two hours watched him, and before leaving he knew Carnahan was robbing him.

When Carnahan entered the cabin Tiny greeted him in his usual cheery manner.

"How'd she clean, Lippy, boy?" he chirped.

"Not much—that's all," Carnahan growled, dropping two slim buckskin just bags on a slab table.

An hour after Carnahan took from beneath his bunk two other bags of gold dust.

"Pull up!" he ordered. "I'm going to divide what we've got."

"What's the idea, boy? Can't we do that when we get to Mt. Idaho?"

"No! We're splittin' right now."

"Why?"

"Because," Lippy rasped, thrusting his heavy face forward, "because, old man, you leave tomorrow for outside. I'm through supportin' you."

"Why, Lippy, you ain't supportin' me—our claim's more than doin' that."

Carnahan laughed shortly. "Our claim?" he scoffed. "Ain't you woke up yet to the fact that you ain't got no claim? It's mine, old man."

After pouring half of the second bag on a piece of paper, folding it and pushing it toward Tiny, he rose, and first placing his gold beneath his jacket pillow he dropped on his bunk.

For a time Tiny sat silent. "Boy," he at last quivered, "what you've done ain't square, but I've lived a long time and seen lots of things—and understand. I've found out that gold madness is worse than most anything a man can get—and Lippy you've got it!"

"Shut up or I'll—"

"See," Tiny interrupted, "it'd make you murder your best friend. Come on, son, let's get away. We'll go down to Mt. Idaho and spend the winter."

Carnahan leaped to his feet. "Cut it, you old rat! I know what you are drivin' at—you want to get me out where you can make a fight for half of this claim. Well, you don't do it—and tomorrow you git!"

It was after midnight when Tiny, leaving Carnahan snoring loudly, slipped out and hurried up the creek to the tunnel. Lighting a stub of candle he went inside. In half an hour he found Carnahan's cache. His next move was to stick fuse into several sticks of giant. Five fuses he capped; the others he only tied to the powder and dropped them into a sack which he hung across his shoulder, leaving the fuses dangling. Next he placed two of the loaded sticks at the tunnel mouth, lighted them and ran down the creek toward the cabin.

He was still running when the explosion came and small rocks rattled about him. He heard the roar of sliding earth and knew the tunnel was no more. Next he heard Carnahan yelling his name as he ran toward him, and slipping into the brush he let him rush past. Then he ran on to the cabin.

First he took the gold from beneath Carnahan's pillow. Next he carried out their remaining grub, Carnahan's clothes and their blankets. Dividing the food he put his part into his sack; the other half he left on top of the blankets. Placing two sticks of giant in the doorway he again ran. Then came the roar and the cabin was a jumble of logs.

"Two minutes after, raging like a crazy man, Carnahan came running back, and Tiny, swinging about his head a stick of dynamite with lighted fuse, yelling like a mad man, leaped toward him.

"Git out of the way!" he screamed. "Git! I'm comin'. I'm the powder man—powder man!" he sang, and disappeared into the bush as the roar of the powder he had thrown sounded.

Lippy gave one look and ran as though devils were pursuing him.

In Mt. Idaho, two days later, Lippy, red-eyed and haggard from sleepless nights of terror, stood before Sheriff Adams.

"I tell you, sheriff," he was saying, "he's plum crazy. Poor little devil. Why, man, he done his best to blow me to smithereens with dynamite. He did blow up our tunnel and cabin. We'd made the biggest cleanup of our lives, too, and he blowed it plum to kingdom come, but—"

"Hello, Lippy—figgered I'd find you here," Tiny called from the doorway. "Beat me in by an eyelash, didn't you?"

"Look out!" Lippy yelled, dodging behind a desk. "Look out! He's got the powder in that sack! Look out!"

Tiny grinned.

"Don't get excited, sheriff. I throwed the powder away 'fore I got into town. I got suttin' better'n powder here," and he dumped on the desk six buckskin bags. "Wish you'd weigh that sheriff. Half's mine and half's Lippy's. Him and me had a little argument back at the mine. Howsomer, it's settled now, ain't it, Lippy?"

BIRTHDAY CAKE

Of all cakes a birthday cake ought to be made with the very best materials. And that, of course, means Snowdrift for the shortening. This creamy, white, easily worked shortening makes rich wholesome cake—cake that is as good to eat as it is to look at. Here is a simple but very good layer cake recipe you may wish to try—

4 Tablespoonfuls Snowdrift
¾ Cupful Sugar
1 Egg
½ Teaspoonful Desired Flavoring
1½ Cupfuls Flour
1½ Teaspoonfuls Baking Powder
¾ Teaspoonful Salt
½ Cupful Milk

Put the Snowdrift in the mixing bowl and gradually work in the sugar, flavoring and the beaten yolk of the egg. Sift together the dry ingredients and add them alternately with the milk to the first mixture, then fold in the egg-white, beaten stiff. Transfer to two medium-sized cake-pans, which have been rubbed slightly with Snowdrift, and bake from thirty-five to forty minutes in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F. Put together with jelly and sift powdered sugar over the top, or any icing you prefer.

NORRIS OPENS DRIVE TO RAISE TRIAL FUND

ASTOR DECLARES HIS "ENEMIES" BACK OF $100,000 CAMPAIGN TO CONVICT

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 4.—With the trial of Rev. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the first Baptist church here, less than a month off, Rev. Norris and his workers today began raising a huge defense fund.

Rev. Norris, nationally prominent fundamentalist and for several years thorn in the side of the Texas and southern Baptist convention, goes on trial in District Court here November. He is charged with the murder in the shooting to death of D. E. Chipps, prominent lumberman, in the pastor's study July 17.

The drive for a defense fund was announced yesterday from the pulpit by Norris, with only a vague reference to the "killing which every one is talking about."

Enemies' Fund $100,000.

"We must have a defense fund to equal the money being raised by the other side," Norris declared. "I have been informed that a group in Fort Worth has said that they will raise $100,000 if necessary to convict Frank Norris."

He mentioned the name of the group and the secretary whom he alleged made the declaration. The money appeal to the 4000 in the church auditorium also was broadcast over Norris' powerful radio station. Ten thousand dollars was the goal set to be raised this week.

Norris' sermon subject yesterday was "Should Not a Minister be Granted the Same Rights That a Bootlegger Enjoys?"

Same Right as Bootlegger.

"A minister should have the same right to defend himself in his own office as a bootlegger has to defend himself in his unlawful bootlegging joint," the pastor-slayer declared.

"I believe in going to war when necessary as a matter of defense. Man is a simple-headed fool if he doesn't believe that?"

At this point, Norris noticed a newspaper reporter in the audience taking notes and, pointing to the reporter, declared: "Even now my enemies surround me. The rest of this gang are listening in on the radio."

The reporter answered that the minister was correct.

Norris referred to his stormy past, including his trial and acquittal on an instructed verdict, when he was charged with arson in the burning of his church here 12 years ago, adding that he has no apologies to make for any of his acts as a minister.

"My Heels Won't Run."

"I have fought every kind of devilry there is," Norris said, "and if I find any that I have not fought, I will take a day off and give it a fling. Back in those days after I was tried and acquitted a committee of 12 warned me to leave town in 30 days, but I am still here. I answered that gang with an open air meeting on a downtown corner, and I still am answering and fighting the same gang. I have never taken anything back. When God made me, he put something in my heels that wouldn't run."

SOCIETY TABLOID AT COTTON PALACE

Exposition at Waco to Present Sixteen Days of Most Diversified Amusement and Education.

Waco, Texas.—The usual high standard of second week attractions in the coliseum at the Texas Cotton Palace will be greatly augmented this year as special endeavors are being made to excel even the first week attractions, the Thaviu Band and grand opera artists, in interest.

The decision to present each show carded for both the first and second week of the exposition, without charge, is something new in the amusement world, especially in view of the fact that the Thaviu organization is recognized as being composed of outstanding artists of this and other countries. Then in termination, the second week of typical Cotton Palace presentations, including the children's program on Monday night, coronation of the Queen of the 1926 Cotton Palace on Tuesday night, the reception by the king and queen on Wednesday night, and the presentation of the debutantes of Waco and the Southwest, offers a variety of entertainment and display of Southwestern beauty and court splendor, which is destined to be unrivaled, even by previous presentations at the Cotton Palace.

The Wednesday night program really furnishes an opportunity for those unable to witness the coronation to see the king and queen and the royal court, assembled again for the purpose of doing honor to the king and queen of the 1926 Cotton Palace, and to receive in royal fashion the debutantes of the season.

Other coliseum attractions are being formulated for the closing days of the exposition and all these with those above are what the Cotton Palace management has provided as free attractions. Any other coliseum attractions will likewise be free. The person who pays his admission at the front gate is entitled to come and go at will for any and all of the coliseum programs.

Big Second Week Program

Officials for the Greater Cotton Palace of 1926 are concentrating their energy on the program for the second week, which includes the Queen's Coronation, the women's day program, the children's day program, and many other important social attractions; indispensable features which have grown with the exposition. The Queen's Coronation is to be this year, bigger and of more outstanding prominence in the way of international distinction than ever before.

Of especial interest in exhibits this year will be the Silver Fox exhibit. The association has secured from the Genesee Mountain Silver Fox Farm near Denver, Colo., a large number of the Fox family, known as the silver fox, and whose pelts are considered by furriers as the most valuable of fox pelts. The exhibit of these cunning and sleek little animals is expected to attract men, women and children.

Concession space at this year's exposition is already at a premium in view of the excellent year for both business and pleasure, which is just ahead. Manufacturers and jobbers of materials and implements are rushing for space, and in view of the crowded conditions of every available concession space at last year's show, this promises to exceed even the wildest expectations of the officials.

Classical and popular numbers are interspersed in the various band programs Thaviu's musical stars. This famous organization will appear during the entire week of the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition, at Waco, beginning October 23.

In addition to twenty high-class shows, there will appear on amusement row, at the Cotton Palace, Waco, this year, eight thrilling rides and a number of fun houses. Sixteen days, beginning October 23.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Frank Monroe entertained for her two charming little children, Catherine, six and Dana, four, with a birthday party on the beautiful lawn at her home on North Central Avenue last Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. About one hundred and forty little boys and girls responded to the invitation to enjoy this delightful occasion with these children. Mrs. Monroe supervised the games. Especially did they enjoy trying to "pin the tail on the donkey." Maidie Watson was the lucky one and received a little barrel of candy. Two birthday cakes had been prepared with candles. Cream cones, cake, chewing gum and all day suckers were served, and all enjoyed the birthday party immensely.

GOVERNOR REGRETS FAILURE OF BILLS

Austin, Texas, Oct. 4.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson issued a statement late Monday saying that she regretted the senate of the 39th legislature in special session has postponed consideration of the gasoline tax measure. She said it deprived the counties of additional revenue by postponing consideration of the motor fee reduction bill and the children of Texas will have to suffer because the condition of the treasury will not permit a general appropriation for the schools.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 4.—Blame for the failure of the three cent gasoline tax and motor fee reduction tax measures to pass was placed on the senate of the 39th legislature in called session late Monday by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson following the reversal by the senate of the Stewart resolution to postpone condition of the two house measures. The governor issued a statement deploring the action.

It was the second time during this session that the senate completely reversed itself within a few hours. During the morning session the Stewart resolution to postpone all revenue raising measures until the 40th legislature was lost by a vote of 12 to 9 with three pairs. It was reconsidered at the afternoon session and the vote was 12 to 8 with five pairs.

Good Health Requires Good Elimination

To be well, you must keep the blood stream free from impurities. If the kidneys lag, allowing body poisons to accumulate, a toxic condition is created. One is apt to feel dull, languid, tired and aching. A nagging backache is sometimes a symptom, with drowsy headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. JOSEPH LOEWENSTEIN DEAD AT HOUSTON

FORMER PROMINENT ROCKDALE BUSINESS MAN GOES TO HIS REWARD SEPTEMBER 18

Ben Loewenstein Jr. and mother, Mrs. B. Loewenstein, were called to Houston Saturday, September 18, by news of the death of the former's uncle, J. Loewenstein, who died at his home in that city on the 79th anniversary of his birth. The funeral was held Sunday, 19th, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Theodore D. Meyer, interment being in Beth Israel cemetery with Rabbi Henry Barnston as the officiating clergyman.

Mr. Loewenstein was born in Prussia but came to this country in 1869, and was one of the first citizens in the new town of Rockdale. The firm of B. Loewenstein and Brother was launched in this city in 1873. This firm became one of the first in commercial strength in all Central Texas, and continued as such for many years. The name "Loewenstein" has been continually linked with the civic and commercial progress of Rockdale since that date, and the business is still represented here, under the management of Ben Loewenstein Jr., occupying the same location as in former years. Joseph Loewenstein accumulated considerable property here which he never disposed of.

In the late 80's he removed to Houston, where he operated a chain of tobacco stores under the firm name of J. Loewenstein and Son. He is survived by his son, Edward B. Loewenstein, and daughter, Mrs. T. D. Meyer.

Decedent was a life member of Holland Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M., Houston; president of Lone Star Lodge, I. O. B. F., and an active member of the congregation of Temple Beth Israel, serving on the church board. He had been in declining health for several months.—Rockdale Reporter.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

On Fifteen Per Cent Bonds

Mrs. Norris beamed as she greeted Aunt Emmy and exclaimed, "Now I know all my financial worries are over! I wanted to tell you right away—"

"What have you bought this time?" Aunt Emmy demanded suspiciously.

"Well, I haven't paid the money over yet, but I have found the loveliest investment where my money will be perfectly safe and will earn a nice income for me right away," Mrs. Norris said. "I'm going to buy bonds, good safe bonds, that will pay me fifteen per cent interest—"

"Wait a minute, you'll have to go some, Maud Norris, to tell me about 'good safe bonds' that pay fifteen per cent!" Aunt Emmy broke in.

"They are safe,—the man said so and this booklet says so too!"

"Do you know what a bond is?" asked Aunt Emmy.

"No, but it's awfully safe, I'm sure of that," Mrs. Norris said. "Everybody knows that bonds are safe—"

"My dear, some bonds are safe and some are not. When you buy a bond you simply lend your money to the company putting out the bonds. Bond issues are secured generally by the company mortgaging or pledging some of its property. In other words, it offers a certain asset as security that it will return your money to you on the date the bond matures. It agrees to pay you a certain sum each year for the use of your money, usually something between five and eight per cent. No company can afford to pay too much for its money—and as to fifteen per cent bonds—why it would be very unusual for a company to be able to earn enough to enable it to pay fifteen per cent for the privilege of using other people's money,—moreover, if it is good enough to borrow money at all it can borrow it more cheaply than that!"

"Oh dear!" wailed Mrs. Norris, "then a bond isn't a good safe investment—"

"Don't jump at conclusions so fast!" said Aunt Emmy. "I did not say that. A bond is as safe as a church if the company that issues it is financially sound, has a high credit rating and is making money. Before you buy bonds assure yourself that the company behind them is above reproach."

"But the man who told me about these fifteen per cent bonds was so earnest—I felt sure I could believe him."

"Don't turn over any money to him until you have some advice on the bonds from your bank," admonished Aunt Emmy. "Then, if you find out that the bonds are questionable you will escape another bad investment." —A. B. Ayres.

Big Circus Coming Here Is a Mammoth Traveling Zoo

To the child the circus menagerie like that of the Robbins Bros. to appear here shortly is of permanent educational value. It gives a personal, intimate touch with the way each living wild animal looks, walks, eats and performs. Smaller towns would have a zoological garden stocked with wild animals if it could afford one. But the expense in keeping these animals, the cost of the grounds and the salaries of the caretakers make it prohibitive. The circus menagerie is the only alternative for this educational feature.

So, if it is a good thing from the standpoint of recreation and education in the larger cities—all have them—then it follows as night follows day that it would be good for the smaller town. Therefore it is a duty to see that the schools are adjourned and all of the classes given a chance to inspect these wondrous wild animals from all parts of the world.

The picture above tells the story of what trained elephants can do.

LARGEST OF 'EM ALL

This Town is To Have One of the Most Gigantic Shows on Earth

"The largest show in the world giving a street parade" is the claim of the Robbins Bros. 4-ring circus coming to this city on October 18. It is a mammoth gathering of all of the prominent features to be found in this country, Europe, Asia and Africa. Many acts and animals are presented for the first time.

Among those of a distinctive character, guaranteeing a thrilling entertainment are:

Two Mammoth Pageants—Arabian Nights and Historic Review of America.

Three herds of elephants. World's most famous Hippopotamus—Miss Iowa—weighs 2,000 pounds.

Herd of Performing Seals. Herd of Dromedary Camels.

Cimmerjotta's Dancing Horses brought from Italy.

Matsumoto Family of acrobats imported from Japan.

Bandana Days Minstrel show. Arabian Trumblers imported from Tehreran, Persia.

Poncea Bills Wild West—a complete show.

Fifty Indians from Sioux Reservation.

Fifty Cowboys from off the plains of the west.

Miss Lula Parr, world's champion bucking broncho rider.

Forty clowns under Kenneth Waite, the world's highest salaried clown.

One thousand people man the show. Two hundred wild animals fresh from the jungles.

One hundred horses used and trained.

One hundred and thirty-two tableaux and circus wagons.

Two electric light plants. Six bands under guidance of Prof. Gilson.

This is only a part of the vast organization coming to this city to entertain and instruct the multitude. It gives the reader something of an idea of this vast aggregation where several circuses and a mammoth wild west show have been combined to furnish entertainment and thrills for the little ones and the old fellows as well.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

FIRST MEETING OF THE FINANCE COMMITTEE

The pastor and his wife were happy to have as their guests Monday night the Finance Committee and their wives to enjoy a chicken barbecue. We wish to thank Mrs. S. M. Burns, Jr., and Mrs. S. M. Burns, Sr., and Miss Mabel Jeter for their assistance in preparing and serving this supper.

The Finance Committee after careful consideration voted to recommend to the church that we change our fiscal year from January 1, to October 1. There are two special advantages to be gained by this change. 1st. That is the time we close our year in this Association, and by closing then the treasurer makes only one final report. As it is now, he makes a final report October 1 for the Association, and then another on January 1 to the church. 2nd. By making October 1 the beginning of the fiscal year, that will enable us to get our subscriptions up without the disturbance and rush that comes with the Christmas holidays.

This matter will be brought up at the regular Conference Wednesday evening, October 6. If ratified by the church the necessary changes will be worked out.

attempting to place Albert Walker, a negro, under arrest. The negro, who ran away from the house near the Santa Fe and Katy crossing where the shooting occurred, had not been arrested at midnight last night.

He carried with him the shotgun with which he had fired at Bailes.

Officers were searching the negro sections of the city, watching all outgoing trains and had notified authorities in all surrounding cities to be on the lookout for the fugitive.

At the hospital last night where Bailes was rushed it was said that he was conscious, but that the extent of his injuries could not be fully determined for several hours. He was struck on the left side of the face with part of a load of No. 8 shot. A large number of shot penetrated the left side of his face and some apparently had entered his left eye. X-Ray pictures did not reveal that any of the missiles had entered the brain or penetrated any vital nerve. It was feared, however, that Bailes would lose his left eye.

The shot merely sprinkled his face and failed even to go all the way thru his cheek or lip—some of them lodging against his gums. He complained of a severe pain in his left ear. He remained conscious after being shot and talked freely to surgeons and relatives about the accident.

He told relatives that he had been called to Sixteenth Street and Avenue G by the negro's wife, who complained that her husband was beating her up. Bailes went to the house and found the negro sitting in the living room with his top shirt removed. He told the negro to come on to town with him and the latter said he would be ready as soon as he got his shirt on. Bailes waited a few minutes on the front porch and the negro did not show up. He told him to hurry on and "let's go to town."

"I don't believe I'll go," the negro said—firing on Bailes with a shotgun from the back of the house.

Bailes was knocked from the porch by the shot and fell in the yard. Theo Timeas, who had accompanied Bailes to the place, picked him up and rushed him to the hospital.

The negro ran from the rear of the house west toward some other negro houses near the Katy tracks. Officers rushed to the scene and searched the houses but could find no trace of him.

The negro is a very light colored mulatto about 30 years old and some 5 feet, 10 inches tall. He came here some time ago from Lavaca county and has been before the police several times.

When officers arrived at the place after the shooting, they found one of his four brothers there. The latter told them that Albert had "gone to town to surrender."

Sheriff Bigham and Deputy Sheriff Johnson oined local officers in the search for the negro soon after the shooting.

Bailes has lived in Holland, Bartlett and Temple all of his life—coming here about six years ago. He is well known throughout the county and while he has been a peace officer practically all of his life last night was the first time he had ever had any trouble in placing his man under arrest.—Temple Telegram.

Milano Man Would Revive Movement to "Buy a Bale of Cotton"

M. E. Ashley, of Milano, writes the Dallas News as follows:

I always enjoy reading The News except when I see that cotton is going down in price each day. It strikes me that The News has an opportunity to render good service for the cotton farmer and the country in general by drawing attention to the fact that the price of cotton has begun to fall below the cost of production and to devise and carry out a campaign of publicity for the purpose of trying to prevent the disastrous result of the sale of this country's chief commodity at less than it costs to produce it.

The cotton crop according to all reports, is not going to be above the average, and conditions warrant a price of 20 cents per pound.

There was a buy-a-bale campaign several years ago which had a good effect. The price then sought was 10c. Twenty cents is just as logical a price now as 10 cents was then. It occurs to me that it would not be amiss to call on every automobile dealer, every gasoline dealer, every automobile tire dealer and every manufacturer's agency to suggest to and encourage their principals to purchase and hold for, say 60 to 120 days, as many bales of cotton as the business they get from the country would justify. If the price goes lower their business will suffer, and it is only a business proposition after all.

Business will stagnate with any lower price of cotton.

I believe that circulation of this idea by The News at this time will meet with results.

BRIDGE PARTY

Last Friday evening at her home on West Eleventh Street, Mrs. C. W. Bradbury was the charming hostess to a bridge party. The rooms were artistically decorated in golden rods where five tables were arranged for the games. The table covers and score cards featured the chosen color. Eber Flinn made high score and received a smoking strap. Mrs. James Watson made low score and was awarded a handpainted handkerchief. After a series of games a delicious salad and ice course was served. Hamilton Bonnett of Dallas was an out-of-town guest.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church will send several delegates on Friday, October 8, to a conference at Bryan.

It is expected that contacts with the leaders of Auxiliary work in this part of Texas will give much of practical, as well as inspirational help to our local delegates.

Using as a basis "The World Call to the Church," by L. F. Boyer, the Auxiliary began last week, a series of discussions of the adequateness of the answer of Christianity to "The World Call."

The Young People's Service League began active service again last Sunday evening.

Their undertaking a work which is a real responsibility, shows their spirit of earnestness for the great cause in which they are enlisted.

The annual election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Agnes Chambers.
Vice-President, Robert Love.
Secretary, Martha Lou Hooks.
Treasurer, Charlie Knipp.
Counsellor, Mrs. J. P. Love.

These officers form a cabinet to advise on programs and other matters of interest.

SHIPS AT SEA USE CHEVROLET MOTORS IN UPPER CABINS

Not satisfied with playing a leading role on land, the automobile motor has now taken up a career at sea.

Away up on the sun deck of the Steamship President Lincoln, which sailed recently from San Francisco for the Orient, is an iron cabin—the loftiest place on the ship. It is waterproof, water tight and strongly built to protect its contents from sea and weather. Inside and out, the house is neat and ship shape and the chief engineer is the only person aboard with a key to its lock.

This cabin known as the auxiliary room houses an electric power plant operated by a Chevrolet motor, for emergency use only.

In case of an accident should everything else on shipboard fail or be below water this motor generates electricity for the wireless set and for lights around the life boats. It is one thing that passengers and crew may depend upon in case of disaster, for as long as there is a spar above water the auxiliary will function. It is entirely independent of the ship's regular machinery and will operate without interruption, supplying current for distress calls and strong light for launching the small boats.

While in these days the possibility of a disaster at sea is practically nil, the auxiliary room gives an added feeling of security. Chief electrician T. Armstrong of the President Lincoln opens up the little cabin once a week to test the emergency rig.

This feature of modern steamship travel indicates the degree of perfection to which automobile motors have been developed. It is nothing short of marvelous that those faltering pieces of mechanism which first propelled automobiles less than three decades ago, have been so perfected as to be selected now to serve as lifesavers in case all else fails.

Temple, Oct. 3.—A mule with epicurean tastes is owned by J. T. Gray, a farmer residing near Holland, 15 miles south of Temple. A full grown turkey was accidentally killed in the horse lot, with the mule and several other animals, according to the story related by Gray, and the mule promptly pounced upon the carcass and devoured it with great relish. The bird was valued at $7, according to Gray.

OIL LASTS LONGER IN BUICK FOR 1927

Device stops crankcase dilution in new models

It is necessary to completely change the oil in the 1927 Buicks only four times a year, Buick engineers claim. This result is accomplished through the elimination of crankcase dilution.

A crankcase ventilator in combination with thermostatic water control removes the water and acid fumes as well as the greater portion of kerosene dilution from the crankcase. This keeps the oil in good condition even in extremely cold weather.

The elimination of oil dilution is one of the greatest problems that has been solved in recent years. It eliminates all the objectional features of winter driving, such as freezing of the oil pump, frequent oil change, and the formation of acid in the crankcase which is so injurious to all working parts of the engine.

One of the chief products of the explosive mixture in a gasoline engine is water. For every gallon of gasoline burned, a gallon of water is produced in the form of steam, and when starting up a cold engine water and the heavy ends of fuel which are not combustible in a cold engine find their way down past the pistons in the form of vapor. Unless they are removed before condensing, they will mingle with the oil in the form of water, kerosene and acid. That is crankcase dilution.

In the Buick crankcase ventilator, the fan blows air through a funnel past an opening in the crankcase, causing a suction which pulls these vapors from the crankcase. It adds no complications to the engine, however, as there are no moving parts to get out of order or require adjustment.

The thermostatic water control is built into the radiator and blocks the water circulation so that under severe weather conditions the engine will warm up from zero to 120 degrees in less than three minutes. When this temperature is reached the thermostat automatically opens and allows the water to circulate. But it never allows the water to drop below 120 degrees under even the most severe driving conditions, which is above the temperature at which crankcase dilution occurs. It prevents excessive use of the choke and gives a summer operating temperature in a very short period of time.

AGRICULTURE TO BE FOREMOST EXHIBIT

Cotton Palace at Waco Plans Extra Space for Greater Farm Display Than Ever Before.

Waco, Texas.—Arrangements are being made for the most extensive agricultural exhibits at this year's Texas Cotton Palace Exposition, at Waco, that has ever been attempted by the officials of this institution.

So great are the plans that it is predicted the agricultural building will be taxed to its capacity to house the varied exhibits coming from all over Texas and from other states.

The United States Department of Agriculture is sending a mammoth exhibit, said to be the most comprehensive ever assembled. Naturally this exhibit embraces products of the soil from practically every state in the union, together with the improved methods of farming as developed by the research section of the department. Much good has been accomplished along educational lines by the department in spreading the gospel of correct farming throughout the nation by reason of its agricultural exhibits, which has resulted in assembling for this year the largest and most varied collection of products ever before attempted. Experts are to appear at the Cotton Palace with the exhibit, who will take great pleasure in explaining to all visitors the last word in agricultural development, as assembled by the department.

The Texas agricultural exhibit will be the most extensive in the history of the Cotton Palace, with more individual county exhibits than in any past year. West, East, North, Central and South Texas will vie one with the other for supremacy in their exhibits at the Cotton Palace. The West Texas exhibit is being assembled under the direction of Homer D. Wade of Stamford, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, while East Texas is being looked after by W. N. Blanton of Longview, manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. Both sections have had an unusually favorable year, with the best crops in many years. With the strictly agricultural products will come immense fruit exhibits, the quality of which is said to be far superior this year to that of any previous season.

In North, South and Central Texas counties, Chambers of Commerce have interested themselves in county exhibits, while the A. & M. College exhibit, always interesting and of great educational value, will be enlarged to cover the various agricultural activities at the college.

All in all, the agricultural exhibits at this year's Cotton Palace, beginning Oct. 23, will be something worth while to see.

Now the patrons of the Texas Cotton Palace, at Waco, will have a chance to study evolution at home by studying a chimpanzee in person. Barney, the Second, one of the almost-human animals, will be a stellar attraction on the Warpath. He probably will be the last of his kind to come to America. His home is in the French and Belgian Congo section of Africa.

The Texas Cotton Palace, at Waco, offers this year a most remarkable free program, including eight presentations of grand opera, eight band concerts, interspersed with special instrumental and vocal numbers. All are by the famous Thaviu organization, and each and every coliseum program will be free to all persons who pay the regular admission price at the front gate.

On the Warpath at the Texas Cotton Palace, at Waco, this year, will be five distinct headliners in Frank Lentini, famous three-legged man; Kinty Kelly; Barney, the second, almost human chimpanzee; Betty Fay and her diving models; and an up-to-date three ring wild animal circus. All of these are with the famous Wortham Shows which will be the amusement row attraction.

An Investment Worthy of Consideration

Do you realize that HOUSTON is fast becoming one of the largest cities in the South—that skyscrapers from 15 to 36 stories are springing up all over the city—that within a few short years it has become one of the largest cotton ports in the world.

HOUSTON is also the oil and lumber center of South Texas and is increasing in population faster than any city in the State. Greater Houston's building last year was the greatest in the State—over forty million dollars—and up to date it is running ahead of last year. Real estate values are increasing by leaps and bounds, and men who are in position to know do not hesitate to predict that Houston in a few years will become the Chicago of the South.

KNOWING THIS AS WE DO, you certainly must realize that real estate investments in and around Houston will certainly reap large profits for those who are wise enough to take advantage of the opportunity now offered. It takes a lot of money to buy inside real estate in Houston because the boom has already hit it, and values are sky high, but you still have a wonderful opportunity to invest in Suburban property, and especially in BAY SHORE property, from which you are sure to reap large profits.

HOUSTON can become a city of a million population, and there will always be ample Suburban property, but when you talk about SHIP CHANNEL and WATER FRONT property on the BAY, that is another matter.

THERE IS ONLY A LIMITED AMOUNT OF DESIRABLE UNDEVELOPED BAY SHORE PROPERTY, and the demand is increasing every day; therefore, we do not hesitate in predicting that within a few short years BAY SHORE property near Houston will sell like other beach property in other parts of the United States, and bring prices that would seem like a dream to us today.

WE TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY OF CALLING YOUR ATTENTION TO

CLIFTON-BY THE-SEA

ONE OF HOUSTON'S CHOICEST BAY SHORE RESORTS, which overlooks the Bay from a high bluff, enjoys the finest fishing and bathing in this section, has one of the finest Bath Houses and Dancing Pavilions on the Texas coast—has a three thousand foot Park along the Water Front, has nearly one hundred summer homes, and is one of the fastest growing Pleasure Resorts on the Bay.

FOR A LIMITED TIME desirable Bay Shore lots are being offered at about half the price being asked by others for less desirable property. You can buy choice lots from $100 to $250 each on terms as low as $5 cash and $5 per month.
